EARL COLEMAN LOSES SIGHT OF ONE EYE.

Popular Young Man Suffers Remarkable Loss of Vision Which Baffles Specialists

His host of friends here are distressed to learn that Earl R. Coleman, who was taken to Louisville last week to consult an eye specialist, has sustained the loss of his right eye, from some cause which the physicians are unable to ascertain. It was at first reported that his left eye was also seriously affected, but his father who has been with him at the St. Joseph's hospital since he was taken there says, that the sight of the left eye is unimpaired, and it is not believed that it is injured.

Mr. Coleman began to suffer with his right eye while in Stanford last week, having stopped off here on his return to his place of business at Middleboro, after having taken the examination for a pharmacist's registration at Louisville. He had been studying exceptionally hard for this examination, and it is believed that this may have affected the member. A blur came before the sight of the right eye, followed by excruciating pain, and his local physicians had him taken at once to a specialist in Louisville. The specialist made a thorough examination and was unable to locate the exact cause of the injury to the member. He surmised, however, that a blood clot or some foreign matter in the blood might have lodged on the nerve of the right eye and thus affected it. He made a complete examination of Mr. Coleman and found him otherwise in perfect health. In fact, said that he had not in a long time seen so perfect a specimen of manhood.

It has been only a few months since Mr. Coleman left Stanford to enter the employ of the Lee pharmacy at Middleboro. Few more popular young men have ever gone out of Stanford, and everyone here feels a deep sympathy for this fine young man in his trouble, and hopes that it may prove but temporary.

CANDIDATES BUSY

Three on Hand at Lancaster Court Meeting the Democrats

After spending a week in Mercer county, meeting and presenting his candidacy to the voters, County Attorney W. S. Burch was in Lancaster Monday and will spend most of this week in Garrard pushing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney. Hundreds of the leading democrats of Mercer pledged themselves to him, and he, likewise, received a very favorable reception in Lancaster Monday.

Judge Puryear, of Danville, was also on hand at Lancaster Monday, accompanied by many of his Boyle county supporters, who were boosting for him.

Col. Jack Chinn, of Harrodsburg, a candidate for Congress, was at Lancaster, also, shaking hands with the voters. He says that he will be in Lincoln soon to shake hands with the good democrats here, and let them see what he looks like, even though here they all may be for Lincoln's favorite son, Congressman Harvey Helm.

"CASEY JONES"

After a siege of plays dealing with the "lost woman" and other deep and complex problems, the patrons of the Opera House Company next Friday will have a chance to spend an evening enjoying a play that makes no pretensions at seriousness, one whose sole purpose is to lift the weight of care that sometimes lies heavily on the mind. The attraction in question is "Casey Jones," which is full of laughable situations and clever specialties, yet unlike most farce comedies its story is plausible and is taken from an actual experience in one of our large cities.

BIG SEASON EXPECTED AT ELIXIR SPRINGS.

A big season is expected at Elixir Springs, the famous health resort in Casey county a few miles south of McKinney. Manager R. M. Houchin has made a great many improvements during the winter and has every accommodation for his guests. He is making a rate of $8.50 and $10 a week, which is considered very reasonable when the character of the water, and quality of accommodations is considered. Many from here will spend much of the summer there in search of health and rest.

A cyclone swept over Illinois and Indiana Sunday evening killing 83 people, injuring over 200 and doing thousands of dollars worth of damage. The "tail" of the big wind was felt in Kentucky, tho' with little damage.

KOREAN PREACHER

Is Named After Superintendent of Methodist Sunday School

The Methodist Sunday school of Stanford is supporting a native Korean preacher at a cost of $100 a year, and sent their quarterly installment the first of April. His name is Rev. Pax Hak Myers. The school has his photograph and autograph. He is 26 years old, is well educated, having taught in the mission schools. He is pastor of a church in Longdo. The Sunday school has given him an American name, J. B. Sartain, in honor of the Superintendent, whose proposition to pay one-fourth of his salary made the enterprise possible.

SMITH BAUGHMAN

Announces Candidacy For Nomination For Sheriff Next Year

Formal announcement is made in the T. J. today of the candidacy of M. S. Baughman for the democratic nomination for sheriff of Lincoln county, subject to the primary which will be held the first Saturday in August, 1913. There is probably no better known democrat in Lincoln county than Smith Baughman, and the news that he is an announced candidate for the nomination will be the word for his host of friends to rally to his standard. Eight years ago he served a term as sheriff of Lincoln, and made a record then in this office which has never been equalled. Four years ago he was defeated for the nomination by only a few votes, and this time, his friends believe he will make even a stronger race than he did then. He will make the race for the nomination again, it is understood, upon the record he made in office before, and the special fitness which his friends believe that he possesses for the duties that devolve upon such an officer.

WANT REVENGE

Stanford Team Will Try Hard to Defeat Team Here Saturday.

The Stanford High School base ball team will play the Sue Bennett school from London on the local grounds next Saturday the 27th. This will be one of the most hotly contested games of the season. The London lads defeated the Stanford team in a ten inning game April 6th and the local boys want revenge. A large crowd is expected. Game called at 2:30 P. M.

EXTREME INGRATITUDE OF TWO WAYNE MEN

Were Given Shelter and Food By H. C. Walters and Stole His Watch When They Left

Shelby Winchester and Elmer Young, two young men from Wayne county, were held to the grand jury under $150 bond, by Judge J. P. Bailey in the County Court last week for the theft of a gold watch from H. C. Walters, a well known farmer of the Hubble section. They were unable to furnish bond and will remain in jail until the May term of court. Winchester confessed to the theft, but Young denies that he knew anything about it.

The act was a particularly mean one, for Mr. Walters had taken the men into his home, given them a bed for the night, furnished them supper and breakfast, all without charge when they told him a tale of woe. They came to his place seeking work but he had none to give them, and when they said that they were without money, hungry, and wanting a place to sleep, he took them into his home, and made them comfortable. Then in the morning when they left they managed to steal his watch, thus showing the meanest sort of spirit, and proving themselves the basest of ingrates. They are said to have sold the watch for $2.50 and it is believed that Mr. Walters will recover it without trouble, while the penitentiary yawns for such as his ungrateful guests.

INTEREST IN REVIVAL SERVICES IS INCREASING

Rev. S. M. Logan Continues to Speak Powerful Words to Congregation at Presbyterian Church

The interest in the services at the Presbyterian church on the part of the people generally has perceptibly increased during the last few days. Mr. Logan is opening up the Bible and his exposition of truth is calculated to build up the people in faith and inspire them to good works.

The afternoon meeting on Thursday and Friday were particularly helpful. On Thursday the subject of the "Humbler Ministries" was discussed. The sermon was full of encouragement for the humble disciple who treads the quiet way. It was also full of rebuke for the lazy church member who uses false humility as a cloak for indolence.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Logan gave an excellent exposition of the words of Paul in Titus 2:14 showing that the peculiar people of that famous passage were chosen to be prepared and fitted for particular service.

On Thursday night Mr. Logan preached on God's best gift, The Holy Spirit. On Friday night the theme was "The New Man in Christ." Mr. Logan urged his hearers to follow Paul's exhortation, to reckon themselves "dead unto sin but alive unto God" and to bring their experience up to that high standard.

Sunday was a great day. Both services were very impressive. The evening service was attended by a very large company; the church being crowded. It was at the evening service however that the interest was most keenly felt. After the preacher's very touching appeal from Romans 13:1, the congregation was visibly moved. Many felt the urgency of the call to new consecration and when the invitation was given a good number came forward and gave their hands to the ministers thus pledging themselves to new loyalty and larger service. Some made request for prayer.

On Sunday afternoon an informal conference of men was held and after a very friendly discussion it was agreed that a Presbyterian Brotherhood be organized and a meeting was called for that purpose for Sunday April 28.

The sermon on Sunday night was preached from 2nd Tim. 1:12. The preacher urged his hearers to commit themselves fully to the Lord, Jesus Christ.
